RAWSONVILLE . . .

Building a future! . . . and a community!

Ford Motor Company's Rawsonville Plant was completed in 1956, covering 810,000 square feet and employed 1,200 people.

Since then, the Plant has been expanded to 1.5 million square feet and employment has increased to nearly 6,000 people, with a yearly payroll of $84 million. It is one of the largest suppliers of parts and components for the automobiles. Rawsonville Plant, part of the Company's General Products Division, manufactures the following products:

Carburetors
Alternators
Heater & A/C Motors
Windshield Wiper Motors
Fuel Senders
Windshield Washer Pumps and Reservoirs
Powder Metal Parts
Master Brake Cylinders

Part of the community for 17 years, the Plant and its employes have contributed to the growth and development of the Ypsilanti area. During these years the Plant and its employes have offered substantial support-manpower, technical & financial-to many worthwhile community activities; such as Junior Achievement and United Fund. Management and employes have been encouraged to be concerned and active citizens of the Ypsilanti area.

On this memorable occasion of Ypsilanti's 150th Birthday, E. O. Miller, Plant Manager expressed a hope that the community and Ford Rawsonville will continue to grow and prosper in the years ahead.
